must necessarily have increased correspondingly, as Live Stock prices and meat prices fluctuate together.

When the producer gets high prices for his live stock, the consumer's meat bill must necessarily be larger.

TEXAS BECOMES DRY WITHOUT A SALOON

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, June 26.—Texas became officially "dry" today when a bill enacted by a special session of the legislature and which prohibits the manufacture or sale of intoxicants within the state became a law. The remaining saloons, numbering between 300 and 400, according to records in the comptroller's office which were outside the limits prescribed by the 10-mile zone around camps of military instruction, are thus banished.

Not a saloon, brewery or distillery remains lawfully in operation in the state.

Both interstate and intrastate shipments of liquor are prohibited by another law enacted by the legislature. The only way any Texan can get liquor without violating the law is to go out of the state, purchase it and bring it back himself for his personal use.

It is expected that constitutionality of the law will be tested. But since the higher courts of the state recess for their summer vacation the last of the present month, and do not convene again until October, court action designed to interrupt enforcement of the law may not be taken for several months.

The chief contention against the law's constitutionality is that it violates that provision which accords local option to counties.

The law permits the use of alcoholic stimulants as medicine "in case of actual sickness" if purchased on written prescription of a physician. Use of alcohol also is permitted for sacramental, scientific or mechanical purposes.

Violation of any provision of the act constitutes a felony and involves a penitentiary sentence of one to five years.

CONDENSED WINE SAVES TONNAGE

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, June 26.—"Condensed wine" is promised by Food Administrator Boret as one of his measures for saving tonnage. There is a large supply of wine in Algeria, but difficulties of transport prevent bringing it to France. The minister appealed to the scientific world and a method has been discovered of reducing these wines to a sort of a honey which only needs diluting to bring it back to its previous state. The process is still in the laboratory stage but the minister is assured of its practical realization and expects to make an economy of four-fifths of the freight which would be necessary if these wines were shipped in barrels.

DISTINGUISHED ATHLETE WINS HIGHEST HONORS

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, June 26.—Colonel Arnold Jackson, who has just been awarded the distinguished service order for the third time, will be remembered in the United States as A. N. S. Jackson, an Oxford athlete, who won the 500 meter race in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912. In the spring before the war he visited the United States with a combined Oxford and Cambridge athletic team.

The announcement of his latest military decoration in the official Gazette says:

"His battalion was subjected all day to an intense bombardment, which caused many casualties. Owing to his powers of command and the spirit he inspired in his men the attack was repulsed. The enemy were driven back with heavy losses and the position completely re-established."

JAPANESE DEMAND FIXING FRANCHISES

(Correspondence Associated Press)

NAGOYA, Japan, May 25.—Demands that the right to vote be extended in Japan in consonance with the progress of the age were adopted at a meeting recently of the Constitutional, or opposition party. Some 3000 members representing eleven provinces were present, and Viscount Kato, formerly foreign minister, the president of the party, presided. The franchise demand is of interest because only a small proportion of Japan's male population has, at present, the right to vote.

The resolutions also declared that Japan's diplomacy should, be reformed, particularly with regard to China, that in view of the war, naval armaments should be replenished, that national finance and economics be strengthened, that educational institutions be increased and improved and that the circulation of money and the prices of commodities should be regulated.

A manifesto was adopted insisting that in face of the grave international situation produced by the war, the collapse of Russia and the domestic commotion in China, Japan has no fixed policy, and alleging that the present government enjoys neither prestige among the powers nor confidence among the Japanese themselves.

How long are the German soldiers going to die for the sake of a bit of smooth conversation?

WHISTLING DON'T GO WITH POILUS

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, June 26.—French and American soldiers almost clashed in a moving picture house here the other night because the French mistook the approving whistles of the Americans to signify criticism.

When a picture of Premier Clemenceau was flashed on the screen there was a chorus of enthusiastic whistles from the Americans. The French were aghast, taking it for a sign of ridicule. Despite the friendly feeling between the two races of fighting men, the poilus made a rush for the Americans. The clash was only averted by explaining that the Americans were registering their admiration for the French premier.

In France whistling denotes bitter criticism, displeasure and disapproval.

What a glorious Fourth of July it would be if we could celebrate the liberation of the German people from the yoke of Prussian autocracy.

ALWAYS THINKING OF FIGHTING DOES NOT IMPROVE THE SOLDIER

(Correspondence Associated Press) HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN TROOPS WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 16.—American boys in the war zone learning from British officers and soldiers that the war has taught in the way of battle tactics are getting an anti-education for the mental effects of their fighting education. This is offset by a compound of gardening and pets. "It is not a good thing for these boys that their minds be centered solely on stabbing, shooting and fighting," said a young colonel of the British army to the correspondent of the Associated Press today. This officer, who won his promotion at a little over thirty by gallant conduct at Loos and other places where the Black Watch distinguished itself, commands one of the British army schools where musketry, machine gun fire, the use of the bayonet and jujitsu are taught.

who was industriously spading a future potato patch. "This is how we try to lighten their thoughts," he added.

A New Zealand band was playing lively airs on the green, a litter of pigs was squealing an accompaniment from a sty behind a thicket and just around the corner hens were clucking to their broods from an enclosure alongside which was a pen of highly bred rabbits. Meanwhile two pet dogs barked in answer to the rattle of machine guns from the ranges where newly arrived allies were trying their marksmanship.

The men who were not shooting, cultivating ground already sown, or preparing for further seedling were trimming the lawn or tending flower beds. There is everything here to suggest the opposite of war.

The commanding officer who happens to be one of the men under whom the regretted Johnny Pos served would say little of the work
